

One appointment. Everything in sync.

FOR THOSE WHO WORK WITH PEOPLE

You love what you do. But the admin?

Wellnara takes care of that.

Bookings, schedules, and paid sessions take care of themselves. You can focus on what matters most: being there for the person in front of you.

I'm a practitioner →

I'm a client →

For psychologists, nutritionists, coaches, and others who help people.

• Your clients

• Your work rhythm

• Russian and English

Practitioner dashboard

A

Anna, everything at your fingertips.

Next appointment

11:30 Consultation · Maria

60 minutes

✓ Confirmed

Before the session 15 minutes to prepare

One booking — two dashboards

Client dashboard

M

✓ Maria, you're booked.

Consultation with Anna · 11:30

My sessions 2 more sessions available to book

Sample appointment. Dashboards shown for illustration.

FOR PRACTITIONERS

A practice with room to breathe.

Your services, your clients, your pace. Payments, bookings, and packages without awkward conversations or mental arithmetic.

How it works ↗

↗ Less back-and-forth about scheduling.

Clients choose an available slot themselves — you simply confirm it.

🕒 A schedule that respects your needs, too.

Working hours, days off, breaks between sessions — you set the boundaries.

☰ Money, without the awkwardness.

You record payments. Both of you can see reserved funds, sessions, and remaining balance — no need to ask, “Have you paid?”

🕒 Care for your clients, on your terms.

Invite them by email, manage each client's wallet, and pause booking access when needed.

FOR CLIENTS

Taking care of yourself starts with simple booking.

Services, available times, appointments, and practitioner contact details are all in your dashboard. Book in minutes, without a phone call.

How to book your first appointment ↗

↗ Choose a time that suits you.

See available slots right away, choose one, and send a request.

✓ Your appointment stays in view.

Check its status in your dashboard and add it to your calendar. If it's canceled, you can choose another time right away.

🕒 Plan with confidence.

See your balance and remaining sessions at a glance, so it's easy to book your next appointment.

Your work is about trust and presence. Let everything else stay out of the way.

GETTING STARTED IS EASIER THAN YOU THINK

From the invitation to the first appointment.

Four simple steps, and your appointment is on the calendar.

01 Set up and invite.

Add services with durations and prices, packages if you like, and your schedule — then invite your client by email.

02 Record the payment.

Your client pays in their usual way outside Wellnara; you add the amount to their wallet.

03 Your client chooses.

They choose the number of sessions and a time for the first appointment. The amount is reserved while the request awaits your decision.

04 You confirm.

The amount is charged, the package becomes active, and the first appointment is confirmed. Subsequent sessions are booked one at a time.

The decision is always yours. If a package request is declined or withdrawn before approval, the funds become available to the client again.

YOUR SCHEDULE LOOKS AFTER YOU, TOO

A good session needs breathing room.

Regular hours and one-off changes help protect both your work and your rest.

- ✓ The service duration is taken into account when suggesting times.
- ✓ Breaks before and after sessions give you space between appointments.
- ✓ Times are shown in your time zone.

Your schedule

A sample day

Space for focused work

Consultation · 60 minutes

11:15 Preparation · 15 min

11:30 Consultation 11:30–12:30

12:30 Wrap-up · 15 min

13:00 Available for the next booking

Breaks are set per service. Clients choose the session time.

Client wallet

Sample balance

See what's available

Available	Reserved
180 EUR	60 EUR

Payment recorded by practitioner +240 EUR

Reserved for a new request 60 EUR

Package · 4 sessions

1 used · 1 booked · 2 available

Amounts and package are examples. The practitioner chooses the accounting currency.

PEACE OF MIND COMES FROM CLARITY

“How much is left?” The answer is right here.

Funds, reserved amounts, and remaining sessions appear in one transaction history for you and your client.

Booking from a package reserves a session. Mark the appointment as complete, and the session is counted as used.

+

Your appointment, in your usual calendar

Add confirmed appointments to your calendar. Both of you receive confirmation and cancellation emails in your chosen language.

Google Calendar

Outlook

Apple Calendar · ICS

GOOD TO KNOW

The details that matter.

How does a client get access?

A practitioner registers by invitation from an administrator and invites clients by email. Each client has a dashboard with the practitioner's services, requests, appointments, and wallet.

Can clients pay by card within Wellnara?

Payment takes place outside the app; the practitioner records the amount received in the wallet. A request requires available funds or an unused session in a package. Balances are tracked in the practitioner's chosen currency.

How do session packages work?

The practitioner sets the maximum number of sessions; a package price, if configured, applies from two sessions onward. The full amount is reserved until approval. Then the package becomes active and the first appointment is confirmed. Remaining sessions are booked separately.

What happens when an appointment is rescheduled?

Clients can start rescheduling at least 12 hours in advance: the previous booking is canceled and the reservation released. A new time requires a new request and confirmation. The practitioner can cancel an appointment and, if needed, close the previous time slot.

What happens with cancellations or no-shows?

If canceled at least 24 hours in advance, the funds or session become available again. With a later cancellation or no-show, the reserved funds or session are used; if the practitioner cancels, they are released. These time limits are fixed in the current version.

What if the practitioner declines an appointment request?

The practitioner gives a reason, which the client sees in their dashboard, and the reservation is released. If the chosen time has not yet passed, that slot is closed and the client can choose another.

Are there reminders and calendar sync?

Emails include ICS files, and appointments can be added to Google Calendar, Outlook, and Apple Calendar. There are no automatic 24-hour reminders or two-way calendar sync; you can set a reminder in your own calendar.

How does a practitioner manage clients?

The practitioner invites clients by email and can see their list and individual wallets. A client can be temporarily marked inactive: they retain access to services and their history, but cannot book. The practitioner can reactivate them at any time.

How are security and passwords handled?

Registration is invitation-only, and links expire. Passwords can be changed in the profile or reset by email; sign-in is temporarily blocked after several failed attempts. Each person can choose Russian or English for the interface and emails.

YOUR NEXT STEP

Let every appointment begin with anticipation. We'll take care of the rest.

Want to run your practice with Wellnara?

Get an invitation from the administrator, then invite your clients.

Want to book through Wellnara?

Ask your practitioner for an invitation and register.

See how to get started ↑